DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. The claims are objected to because they include reference characters which are not enclosed within parentheses.

Reference characters corresponding to elements recited in the detailed description of the drawings and used in conjunction with the recitation of the same element or group of elements in the claims should be enclosed within parentheses so as to avoid confusion with other numbers or characters which may appear in the claims. See MPEP § 608.01(m).

2. Claims 8-9 are objected to because of the following informalities: said claims depend from method claim 6; however since claim 6 is not a method claim, claims 8 and 9 appear to depend from claim 7, and have been treated as such for the purposes of this examination. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Art Unit: 3673

4. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The disclosure fails to clearly teach one of ordinary skill in the art how the means for separating alpha waves and beta waves (i.e. a brain wave detection sensor) operates and how it interrelates with the means for adjusting the inclination of the bed. Since it is unclear how the means for separating operates, it is consequently unclear if the bed would perform the functions attributed to it. Therefore, the disclosure is not enabling.
